Headgy brings together the expertise of two large companies in the helmet manufacturer both with a prominent position in their respective market. By combining both, a new company was born, with all the resources to embrace the complete development of new products, from design to assembly, through prototyping, mold making, production, and logistics. The result is an optimization of the production process (cost reduction and increased efficiency) in order to offer the best price for helmets manufactured in Europe.

Thorough knowledge of the worldwide market, coupled with a total control of the production process, allow Headgy to reach levels of flexibility and innovation that are beyond the reach of most competitors, positioning itself as an ideal partner for “private label” products. By having its production and storage totally focused in Portugal, Headgy may have safety stocks for fast delivery anywhere in Europe. One of Headgy’s strategic goals is to provide a quality service at very competitive prices and, above all, offering a “Made in Europe” label.
